

Neuropathologist

The Department of Laboratory Medicine and Pathology, Alberta Health Services, in partnership with the University of Alberta, Faculty of Medicine and Dentistry, in Edmonton, Alberta is seeking a qualified academic Neuropathologist to join the Department (<http://imp.med.ualberta.ca/Pages/default.aspx>).

Within the Edmonton Zone, neurosurgeons operate full-time at two of the large academic tertiary care hospitals. In addition, the Center for Neuroscience and affiliated neuroscience research groups at the University of Alberta provide significant opportunity to participate in clinical and basic research activities in many aspects of neurobiology and neuropathology. The University of Alberta offers strong research and teaching programs in almost all aspects of contemporary neuroscience. The Centre for Neuroscience promotes such interdisciplinary neuroscience programs – for more details see: <http://www.neuroscience.ualberta.ca/Home/index.cfm>

The successful candidate will have an appointment within the academic stream in the Faculty of Medicine and Dentistry at a level commensurate with experience and productivity. Cross appointment in one of the Departments associated with the Center for Neurosciences can be included with this appointment. The successful candidate will be encouraged to develop an independent research program in the Department and to participate in research activities that foster the goals of neurosciences at the University of Alberta.

Teaching in Neurosciences and neuropathology is an important function of this position. The successful candidate will be expected to interact with neurology and neurosurgical residents within their training programs, and to provide interactive educational opportunities related to neuropathology for medical students, and graduate students in neurosciences. The University of Alberta also has a large and successful undergraduate degree program in Neuroscience, which features some of the best science undergraduates at our institution.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority. Other pathologists with equivalent qualifications are encouraged to apply. The successful candidate must be eligible for licensure in the province of Alberta. Salary is according to the Alberta Medical Association grid for physicians in Laboratory Medicine and Pathology. Starting salary is commensurate with level of fellowship and experience.

Alberta Health Services and the University of Alberta hire on the basis of merit. We are committed to the principle of equity in employment. We welcome diversity and encourage applications from all qualified men and women, including persons with disabilities, members of visible minorities and Aboriginal persons.

Interested, qualified persons should apply to:

Dr. R.P. Rennie, Edmonton Zone Clinical Department Head, Laboratory Medicine and Pathology, University of Alberta Hospital, WMC 4B1.19, 8440 – 112 Street, Edmonton, Alberta. T6G 2B7. T: 780-407-8806; F: 780-407-8599; E: robert.rennie@albertahealthservices.ca