ACADEMIC NEUROPATHOLOGIST

The Department of Pathology at the George Washington University Medical Faculty Associates, the independent non-profit faculty clinical practice group affiliated with the George Washington University, is seeking an academic neuropathologist to serve as Chief of the Neuropathology Service. The GWU Medical Center is a growing institution located in the heart of the nation's capital, with expanding clinical and academic programs and a modern, state-of-the-art hospital facility. The Department of Pathology is experiencing a significant increase in the volume and complexity of specimens submitted to the Neuropathology Service, providing rich and varied clinical material for sign-out and the pursuit of clinical and/or translational research. The institution has very active Neurosurgery and Neurology Services, with emphasis on neuro-oncology, neuromuscular disease, and seizure and movement disorders. Participation in sign-out of a full spectrum of neuropathology case materials, including neurosurgical specimens and nerve and muscle biopsies, is a major focus of the position. Sign-out of other, general surgical pathology cases is also available. In addition to clinical service, the successful candidate is expected to participate substantially in clinical, translational, and/or basic research. Active investigators in the Departments of Neurology and Neurosurgery, as well as the GWU Institute for Neuroscience and other nearby research institutions, provide significant opportunities for research collaboration. Teaching of students, residents, and fellows is an additional important component of the position. Academic rank at the George Washington University will be based on experience and academic accomplishments.

Basic Qualifications: Applicants must be Board-certified or Board-eligible in Anatomic Pathology or Anatomic and Clinical Pathology and in Neuropathology.

Application Procedure: To be considered, please complete an online faculty application at <http://www.gwu.jobs/postings/12546> and upload a curriculum vitae and a cover letter that includes a statement of interest in clinical neuropathology and lists areas of research interest. Only complete applications will be considered. Review of applications will commence on January 14, 2013 and will continue until the position is filled. The George Washington University Medical Faculty Associates is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer.

Questions regarding the position should be addressed to Donald Karcher, M.D., Professor and Chair of Pathology, at dkarcher@mfa.gwu.edu.
