Faculty Position—Neuropathologist

The George Washington University Medical Faculty Associates, an independent non-profit faculty clinical practice group affiliated with the George Washington University, is seeking a neuropathologist to join the Department of Pathology. An increasing neurosurgical volume from our Neurosurgery and Neurology Services provides opportunities to sign out both neoplastic and non-neoplastic cases, including nerve and muscle biopsy specimens, and to conduct basic, clinical and translational research in collaboration with neurosurgeons, neurologists, oncologists, and other clinicians and basic investigators. Successful candidates with strong research backgrounds who may establish principal investigator-led research may be considered for appropriate research support and laboratory space. This faculty appointment will be made at a rank (Instructor/Assistant/Associate/Full Professor) and salary commensurate with experience. Our growing medical center, with a modern, state-of-the-art hospital and expanding Cancer Center, is located in the heart of the nation's capital.

Responsibilities include providing clinical service, including participation in the autopsy service, teaching residents, fellows, and medical students, and developing an active research program.

Minimum Qualifications: MD, MD/PhD, or equivalent; Board-certified or Board-eligible in Anatomic Pathology or Anatomic and Clinical Pathology; fellowship trained in Neuropathology; and eligible for licensure in the District of Columbia at the time of appointment.
